Kia ora whānau,

He mihi nui aroha ahau kia koutou katoa
- thank you so much for last weekend.

We could not have asked for a better day; the weather gods were smiling on us. More importantly, our Fair could not have happened without the generous time you provided that enabled hundreds of people to experience a wonderful day at our amazing kura - THANK YOU WHĀNAU xx

A special thank you to our Erin, Brenda, Dana, Chris and Steve who were the team behind the scenes that organised it xx.

Next week, Class 6 are on camp at Waitomo and Class 8 are on camp in the South Island. Both classes are looking forward to it and I wish them all the very best carrying out the activities and making memories. Additionally, I would like to thank our parents and staff who are travelling with our tamariki - without your assistance, the camps would not have been possible.

Enjoy the long weekend.

More great sports to watch, more so with the football world cup starting.

Thank you, thank you, thank you

What a beautiful day Saturday was, to see the sun shining, the school abuzz with so many people was just amazing.

To every one one of you, from those that baked, cut onions, moved books, made crowns and so much more - thank you, because of each and every one of you the day was wonderful.

I would like to acknowledge how much work Brenda has done over the past few weeks... we truly appreciate it.

I am currently working on figures and will announce these by the end of the month.

INTRODUCING LLOYD C. BEAN

LLOYD BEAN is the artistic director of PANDEMONIUM, a COMEDY performed at 7PM ON MONDAY the 28 and TUESDAY 29 of NOVEMBER.

READ THE EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW

Q: What is your full name?

A: Lloyd Christopher Bean

Q: What is your proudest accomplishment in your career?

A: My proudest accomplishment is my artistic directorial debut, with PANDEMONIUM.

Q: Which scene in this production do you personally find the funniest?

A: I must say, it would obviously be every scene.

Q: Key scenes in PANDEMONIUM are set in Brighton. Have you ever been to Brighton?

A: I've been twice, a few years ago, and I've never been back - Brighton is frightfully boring, but this play is frightfully funny!

Q: Who do you look up to in this industry?

A: I easily look up to Benedict Cumberbatch. I don't know if you've seen any of his movies but truly... what an accomplished actor, and director. His plays are outstanding as well, although not as much as Patrice Wilson's of course.

Q: What do you do in the times when you don't feel the most confident?

A: When I'm anxious, I do a very easy thing. There is a fine line between anxiety and excitement - the best thing you can do is confuse this line. Are you really anxious or are you just super excited and you feel bad telling everybody that you are going to absolutely smoke them?

Q: Which guy in your production would look best in a dress?

A: This is a very hard question - it is a close tie between Ronan and Li. Li brings a lot to the dress, and he of course kills it. And Ronan just really pulls off this grand effect.

Q: What are you most looking forward to in the play?

A: Probably the songs. There is a skittle band, of which I am a member. We are performing three songs throughout the play, all three of which are very riveting and very fun and I can't wait to perform these live.

Q: Do you feel confident that the production will be a success?

A: Naturally... of course! I mean... I am the artistic director.

Q: What is the worst thing that could happen for the production?

A: Well, one of the worst things that could happen is that someone could die. But the absolute worst thing that could happen is that somebody misses their cue, and that's just so many leagues above death.

Q: And finally, where do you see yourself 5 years from now?

A: Um, In the grave. I am currently 26. I think 31 is a great year to die - I will have achieved so much, I look so good and most people agree with that, so I think 31.

Q: Even if you are at the height of your career?

A: Are you implying that I'm not at the height of my career now?

Q: No, of course not. Just... there's always room for improvement.

A: For most people, yes.

THE END.
